Patrick Joseph is the Cofounder of Gride/vice president of delivery

Prior to his entrepreneurial pursuits, Patrick owned a limousine company in Orlando. During which time he oversaw employees, handled scheduling, and ensured that all of the drivers provided a safe and pleasurable ride for every passenger. For the past few years, Patrick has been focusing the majority of his time investing in online businesses. Patrick is very supportive of causes that are close to his heart which include aiding in startups that grow to meet the needs in the ever-changing world.

Currently, Patrick resides in Georgia with his wife, young son, and their Goldendoodle.
